

NHS Scotland Global Citizenship Conference 2019

“Developing Sustainable Health Partnerships”

1 November 2019

Murrayfield Stadium, Edinburgh

SG International Development Partner country focus – Malawi and Zambia

Workshop Outline

This session will be led by SG International Development colleagues and focus on developing and building new partnerships, as well as maintaining long term partnerships.

- Nicola Cogan (SG International Development Team) introduced the session and provided background information on the International Development Fund and the Scottish Government’s International Development Strategy. (see slides for further detail)
- Professor Paul Garside (University of Glasgow) provided advice on good partnership working using the Blantyre-Blantyre project as an example (see slides for further detail). Prof Garside highlighted that our international work should be led by the need and expertise in country.
- Professor Jeremy Bagg (University of Glasgow) presented on establishing partnerships using the MalDent project as an example. (see slides for further detail).
- Susan Cottrell from the Scottish National Blood Transfusion Service (SNBTS) presented on their newly formed partnership with the Zambian National Blood Transfusion Service.
- Workshop participants discussed benefits and challenges involved in partnership working.

November 2019